DANIEL AZOULAY GALLERY

Daniel Azoulay Gallery will re-open its doors on December 2, 2008 in its new location at Midtown Miami 4.

The new gallery space opens in conjunction with this year's first Art Midtown- where Azoulay played an instrumental role to attract major art fairs including Art Miami, Photo Miami, Scope and Bridge Art Fair to converge within the pedestrian-friendly city blocks of the Midtown Miami development located just south of the Design District in Miami.

Since its inception six years ago, Daniel Azoulay Gallery exhibits and represents the work of important and noted contemporary photographers and encourages the work of new, emerging photo artists. The first and only gallery dedicated specifically to photographic and video art in Miami, Daniel Azoulay Gallery showcases the always evolving and powerful range of photo art that exists in the art world today.

"Exposed", a group show featuring the work of Laura London, Alfredo de Stefano, Harvey Zipkin, Gerardo Montiel Klint, Daniel de Azoulay, Michael Grecco, Anja Siemens, Maxi Cohen, Renata Poljak and Nan Gonzalez will open the gallery on December 2nd, 2008 and will run until January 3, 2009.

VIP opening reception Tuesday December 2nd, 2008 from 5 to 10 pm. The gallery will be open for the duration of Art Midtown until December 7th, from 11am to 8pm.
